

1 we have used. I think there has been a great deal of 2 sincerity in the discussions. There has been a good
3 deal of incisiveness, and there has been some honest
4 differences of opinion openly stated. I, myself, be-
5 lieve that I will have to vote against this motion, 6 though inherently it embodies a number of elements that 7 I think are very, very good, and the reason I shall vote
8 against it is because it includes, and as may be deemed 9 appropriate by the General Assembly.

10 I think that this lies at the heart of what the 11 Committee proposed some time back, and you will remember
12 that I have stood for autonomy all along for the Univer-
13 sity of Maryland and for other institutions, and I think 14 the inclusion of this particular clause weakens the 15 very autonomy that we are seeking.

16 MR. SYKES: May I ask a question?

17 THE CHAIRMAN: Yes, sir.

18 MR. SYKES: Would the amendment be satisfac-
19 tory to Dr. Bard if that clause, as may be deemed appro-
20 priate by the General Assembly, were deleted? If so, I
21 would so move.
